

CLYDE

Oh shit! It's the laws. Meet me tomorrow mornin'. Eight O'clock. 145 Oak Grove over in Harrison. Whistle or throw somethin' at the second floor window on the corner.

CLYDE runs out the back. BONNIE opens the door to find Ted.

BONNIE

Ted? What are... what are you doin' here?

TED

Followin' some leads on a prison break. Since I was in the neighborhood I figured I'd stop by, you know, and make sure you and your ma are okay.

BONNIE

We're fine. Thanks, Ted.

HE steps into the room.

TED

Jeez, last time I was in this house was when your grandma died.

BONNIE

That was a long time ago.

TED

You know, that was the first time I ever saw a dead body. I mean, she was wearin' lots of make-up and all but you could still see she was dead.

BONNIE

(laughs, then)

I hated seein' her like that.

TED

And I remember how we both hid under your front porch.

BONNIE

Eatin' buttermilk pie.

TED

And playin' cards.

BONNIE smiles.

So, I'll pick you up Saturday.

BONNIE

Ted—

TED

And keep this door locked, alright?

BONNIE

Alright, Ted.

HE leaves.